Going For A Hike? - Be Prepared and Know What to Take With You

Hiking Gear

NPS / DAVID RESTIVO

- Appropriate footwear is recommended for all hiking. Good boots, with strong support, help to prevent ankle injuries.
- Bring plenty of water! The mountains can get very hot in the summer. Untreated surface water may be unsafe to drink.
- Protect yourself by wearing a hat and sunscreen. A day of hiking can expose you to more sun and UV rays than normal.
- Dress in layers and bring raingear. Weather conditions can change quickly.
- Bring something to eat. If you are on an all-day hike or a hike over the noon hour, food will help maintain the required energy levels.
- Leave No Trace. If you pack it in, pack it out.
- Bring insect repellent to avoid insect bites.
- Children should be accompanied by an adult.
- Consider completing the voluntary Day Trip Plan Form. These forms are available at ranger stations, visitor centers, the Park’s website, and Glacier Park, Inc. hotel and lodge front desks.

Native America Speaks

Tipis at St. Mary

NPS

This summer, Blackfeet, Salish, Kootenai, and Pend d'Oreille tribal members will once again share their knowledge of Native American history and culture with Glacier National Park visitors as part of the 2013 Glacier National Park Native America Speaks Program. Programs are offered in campgrounds, lodges and at the St. Mary Visitor Center.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE NATIVE AMERICA SPEAKS PROGRAM INCLUDE:

Jack Gladstone, a Grammy-nominated Blackfeet singer/songwriter, presents his popular “Buckskin PoetSongs” program at the Lake McDonald Lodge, Many Glacier Hotel, and St. Mary Visitor Center. His program uses original live music to discuss and honor Native American contributions to American culture.

The Two Medicine Lake Singers and Dancers provide insight into contemporary and traditional Blackfeet history and culture through narration and Fancy, Jingle, Traditional, and Grass dance demonstrations at the St. Mary Visitor Center.

The Native American Speaks Program offered at Glacier National Park is made possible through a generous donation from the Glacier National Park Conservancy.

Join a Ranger on an unforgettable hike into the remote Belly River country in the northeast corner of the park. This all-day hike drops down to the Belly River and follows it through flower-laden meadows surrounded with spectacular mountain vistas to the historic Belly River Ranger Station. Learn about the area’s wild nature, including stories of wild outlaws and wild animals. Moderate terrain but strenuous due to distance. Belly River Trailhead, just south of the Chief Mountain border crossing. Meet at 8:45, hike starts at 9:00. 7 hours, 12-mile (19 km) hike

Gable Pass Getaway
Are you looking for a hike that is off the beaten path? Do words like remote, unknown, and solitude pique your curiosity? If so, join a ranger for a special hike that will take you through a diverse ecosystem, past one of the most spiritual landmarks in Montana, and end with stunning vistas unlike anything you have seen before. Moderate terrain but strenuous due to distance. Belly River Trailhead just south of the Chief Mountain border crossing. From there, you will caravan ½ mile with a ranger to the unmarked trailhead for Lee Ridge. 7 hours, 12 miles (19 km)

Mountains, Meadows, and the Magic Forest
You may not see a gnome, but you will experience open meadows, sweeping mountain vistas, and a dark and mysterious forest. This morning hike also winds through an area that burned in 2006, which has created ideal habitats for a variety of birds and ungulates. Explore the 3-mile loop trail which is not often discovered by park visitors, but is a favorite of the local park rangers. 1913 Ranger Station parking lot. 3 hours, easy-moderate 3 mile (4.8 km) hike
